Domestic and Professional knives

VICTORINOX

To avoid the chromium-plating of carbon-steel knives, Charles Elsener, the oldest son of the founder urged a steel-mill to develop a stainless-steel that could be hardened. After many trials he manufactured in Ibach the first stainless-steel knives. As the results were not quite satisfactory at the beginning great efforts were made the following years to improve the quality of the stainless-steel knives. In 1931 the firm Brown Boveri in Baden/Switzerland was assigned the task of installing at Victorinox Ibach the world's first fully electric steel hardening plant. Afterwards the Victorinox professional and butcher knives became famous first in Switzerland, France and the USA and later worldwide.
The Fibrox plastic handle meant yet another breakthrough for Victorinox. It was developed on the basis of the most modern ergonomic findings and convinces its users through optimal safety and anti-slip charateristics. All Fibrox handles can be sterilized up to 150° and are in compliance with ruling (EG) 1935/2004.

The last figure of the 5-digit item number code indicates:

5.04 00 = polished rosewood handle
1 = red polypropylene handle, dishwasher-proof or red anti-slip, sterilizable Fibrox handle for professional knives
2 = blue polypropylene handle, dishwasher-proof or blue anti-slip, sterilizable Fibrox handle for professional knives
3 = black polypropylene handle, dishwasher-proof or black anti-slip, sterilizable Fibrox handle for professional knives
6 = other shape of handle
7 = white polypropylene handle, dishwasher-proof
8 = yellow anti-slip, sterilizable Fibrox handle for professional knives
9 = lacquered bubingawood handle

The penultimate figure denotes:

5.41 00 = normal straight edge
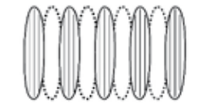
10 = flexible blade
20 = fluted edge


30 = wavy edge

50 = micro-denting
60 = other shape of blade
70 = 00 + saw edge

Where knives are available in several sizes, please note the length of blade which follows the 5-digit item number code, i.e. 5.18 00.15 or 5.20 33.22.

On the illustrations and pricelists pages 22, 26–35 you will find the knives with wooden handles on the left and the corresponding ones with dishwasher-proof polypropylene and Fibrox handles respectively on the right.

Packing
The paring knives, page 22, with rosewood and bubingawood handles are supplied in boxes of 6 pieces and those with polypropylene handles with patented blade protection in boxes of 20 pieces.

The household and slicing knives are supplied without extra cost in individual self-service wallets in boxes of 6 pieces, excepting the following models:

Page 26: 5.1733, 5.2060–63

To save time and unnecessary cost the small vegetable knives Nr. 5.0301–5.0833 (see page 22) are supplied in boxes of 20 pieces. Thanks to the optimal blade protection they can be emptied directly into the sales boxes. (If blistered they would have to be hung up individually).
On blister cards these small, very priceworthy vegetable knives would suffer an unnecessary and disproportionate price increase of about 20%.

On page 38 you will find the new, ergonomic «Swiss Classic» range (Nr. 6.7111–6.7833) and on page 38a the large kitchen knives (Nr. 6.7113–6.8713) with the more expensive but comfortable «Fibrox»-handles.

Ceramic knives are becoming increasingly popular: The benefits are the best possible cutting quality, the blade remaining sharp over a very long period and the blade's neutrality with regard to taste. The blades of ceramic knives are manufactured from high-purity zirconium oxide powder, compressed at very high pressure and sintered in special sintering furnaces at temperatures of 1500 °C. This results in a blade that has an extremely high level of hardness. Ceramic is almost as hard as diamond.

Thanks to the ceramic material, the knife is very light and weighs only half as much as a steel knife of the same size.

It is resistant to corrosion and, thanks to its smooth surface, is insensitive to acids. As a result of the high level of hardness, the blades remain sharp for a very long time. As a result of the high density of the surface, ceramic knives are very easy to care for: simply wipe with a damp cloth, let dry and carefully store in the protective cover.

NOTICE: These protective gloves are «cut resistant, not cut proof». These gloves are sold individually, not in pairs. These gloves are «ambidextrious» and can be worn on the left or right hand. In a typical application, only one glove would be worn (usually on the hand not holding the knife). Butchers, meat cutters and some food preparation workers will wear the «Performance Shield» or «Ultimate Shield» glove on the knife hand, and the «Knife Shield» on the hand opposite the knife.

Ultimate SHIELD
Exceptionally high cut resistance. Durable, flexible and very comfortable. Made using a patented combination of stainless steel wire, encapsulated in a sheath of polyethylene and wrapped with a high performance polyester
Applications: Liner Glove, Knife Hand Glove in slaughterhouse, food preparation or food service

7.9030.M	1	Medium (Green Banding)	7 611160 705389
7.9030.L	1	Large (White Banding)	7 611160 705396

Knife SHIELD
The highest level of protection and cut resistance. Soft, flexible, bright white, wire free
Applications: Wherever the highest level of protection is required. Slaughterhouse, food processing (hand opposite knife), butchers, pork & poultry processing operations

7.9031.S	1	Small (Red Banding)	7 611160 705341
